

THE 80% RULE...

<https://www.cxk.org/blog/blog-what-is-the-shape-of/>

Graduate Employment & Training

- Your job plus where you work will affect your potential earnings (LMI)
- Your lifestyle and where you live, will affect how much you need

20% to 30% of all graduate jobs will require an essential or relevant degree subject to enter

70% to 80% of these can be entered via any degree due to transferable skills and experience

In the areas related to:

- Science
- Technology
- Engineering
- (Architecture and VFX)
- Mathematics
- (Modern Foreign Languages)

Of these, approximately 40% to 66% of graduate recruiters will accept any degree subject; of those who do not, they will prefer a relevant degree subject

Higher Education:
Distance Learning and/or
College/University

6th Form

College

Note: These factors are affected by location, role, as well as sector and size of business and may vary year on year

THE 80% RULE...

<https://www.cxk.org/blog/blog-what-is-the-shape-of/>

Graduate Employment & Training

- Your job plus where you work will affect your potential earnings (LMI)
- Your lifestyle and where you live, will affect how much you need

20% to 30% of all graduate jobs will require an essential or relevant degree subject to enter

70% to 80% of these can be entered via any degree due to transferable skills and experience

In the areas related to:

- Science
- Technology
- Engineering
- (Architecture and VFX)
- Mathematics
- (Modern Foreign Languages)

Higher Education:
Distance Learning and/or
College/University

Of these, approximately 40% to 66% of graduate recruiters will accept any degree subject; of those who do not, they will prefer a relevant degree subject

6th Form

College

Note: These factors are affected by location, role, as well as sector and size of business and may vary year on year